

Our People

AGILE8 CONSULTING recognises that having the right people is essential. We are constantly on the lookout for entrepreneurial, hard working and fun loving individuals who can make a difference and who take pride in delivering outstanding value to our clients. We are committed to attracting and rewarding high-calibre individuals who can allow AGILE8 to fully guarantee the quality of all our consulting work for clients.

Our Consultants Our Hong Kong head office consists of experienced management consultants with a wealth of industry experience, each responsible for delivering outstanding services to our clients in their respective industry areas. For more details please contact us (See contact details at right menu).

Our Culture and Ethics
AGILE8 has a simple set of employee rules. These require that all of our staff should focus only on providing outstanding services to our clients. In meeting this commitment, AGILE8 people have the right to involve any colleague, including those at board level, to ensure that all consulting assignments, delivered products or services go beyond our client expectations. AGILE8 is actively committed to protecting the confidentiality of our clients and to safeguarding client intellectual property. We will apply the same safeguards to client information as we apply to our own high-value intellectual property. On client references, AGILE8 will not name its clients or client assignments unless we have received prior written agreement to any joint publication in advance.
